Dear Friends

How the weeks have flown by and here we are in Lent! In previous years I have written about some of the changes that Lent brings to our church, including a pause in baptism services and the offering of a Lent study group. Last year's Lent group was focused on stewardship, the idea of giving to God through and for the Church in terms of our time and gifts, and financially.

This year we are doing something a little different, albeit on a similar theme. Members of St James are being invited to respond to three 'calls to action'. The first concerns our regular financial giving. As is the case in so many areas of life, this hasn't managed to keep pace with the costs of running the church, costs which have to be met by the church community itself. Costs usually go up rather than down, so it is a constant challenge for us all, despite the ongoing generosity of so many, for which we give grateful thanks. During Lent, members of the church community (yes, including the Vicar!) are being asked to prayerfully and deliberately review their regular giving so that we can get closer to meeting our costs. The hope is that a review will lead to an increase in regular financial giving, or the start of giving regularly if this isn't already the case, but where this is not possible, a commitment to a future review when circumstances allow.

The second invitation is for members of St James to sign up to volunteer their time and gifts in support of the work of our social and fundraising committee. As you will have seen online, in the Milton Review, and on the various posters around the area, the committee have been busy organising a variety of events of different kinds to support the life of the parish, to reach out to the wider community, and to raise funds for the church and, in particular, for the repairs needed to the roofs and fabric of our church and halls building. All of this requires a tremendous amount of planning and hard work and more volunteers to help in all sorts of ways are always needed. The aim is to encourage as many as people as possible to be involved in our fundraising activities in whatever way they can.

Finally, everyone is being asked to publicise the Roof Rescue project by distributing and displaying our new yellow posters as widely as possible. I hope you will have already heard of the scale of the project ahead of us. We need to raise a total of £2 million to complete the necessary works, with no financial support from the national church or the diocese. St James Church has managed to raise £500,000 and we are applying for various grants, but even if we secure these, we will need the financial support of the wider community to enable us to safeguard the building, both the church and the halls used by community groups, for the future. On the poster is a QR code enabling donations to be made by anyone who would like to help. Please do.

During Lent, Christians are called to self-examination and spiritual discipline. This year here at St James we are being asked to undertake these things with a particular focus on the financial challenges before us. Whether or not you are directly involved with St James, we would love to have your support in any of the ways I have described. Whether you do this during these weeks of Lent or sometime thereafter, your help will be greatly appreciated, as is the generosity and faithful service of our church members.

With every blessing

Fr Darren

BEETLE DRIVE

Raising the 2 million pounds for the new church roof can be fun! On the 24th January approximately forty of us got together for a sausage & mash, apple crumble and Beetle Drive. It was a great evening that raised £454. The food was superb and the cooks, organisers and helpers in any way should feel proud that so many enjoyed the evening. For some it was a new experience learning how to play the game, sounds of 'I need a six or I need 3 legs', could be heard amongst the laughter. There was also a raffle, some of us were lucky to win a prize!

We still have a long way to go to get to the 2 million target. Keep your eyes open for any fund raising events and come and join us. You will be guaranteed an evening of fun and fellowship.

Thank you Bridget for arranging such an enjoyable experience for us all, and for our goodie bags!

Long may the St James Theatre club continue". Anne

SWIFT BOXES

If you've ever looked up on a warm evening and seen a group of swifts racing overhead, you'll know how special they are. They're only with us for a few short weeks each year, yet their arrival feels like the start of summer itself.

But swift numbers have fallen sharply across the UK, largely because the tiny gaps they once used in older roofs and eaves have disappeared as houses are modernised. Without somewhere to nest, they simply can't raise their young.

A Simple Way You Can Make a Difference

Installing a swift nest box on your home is one of the easiest and most effective ways to help. A box placed high under the eaves gives these remarkable birds exactly what they need. They don't perch, they don't make a mess, and they spend almost all their time in the air. You may barely notice them—until you hear that joyful summer “scream” overhead.

Local Support, Local Impact

Working with Hampshire Swifts, the Milton Forum is helping residents get boxes fitted quickly and affordably. Single and double boxes are available, and custom options can be made for tricky rooflines. Even one box can give a pair of swifts a home for years to come.

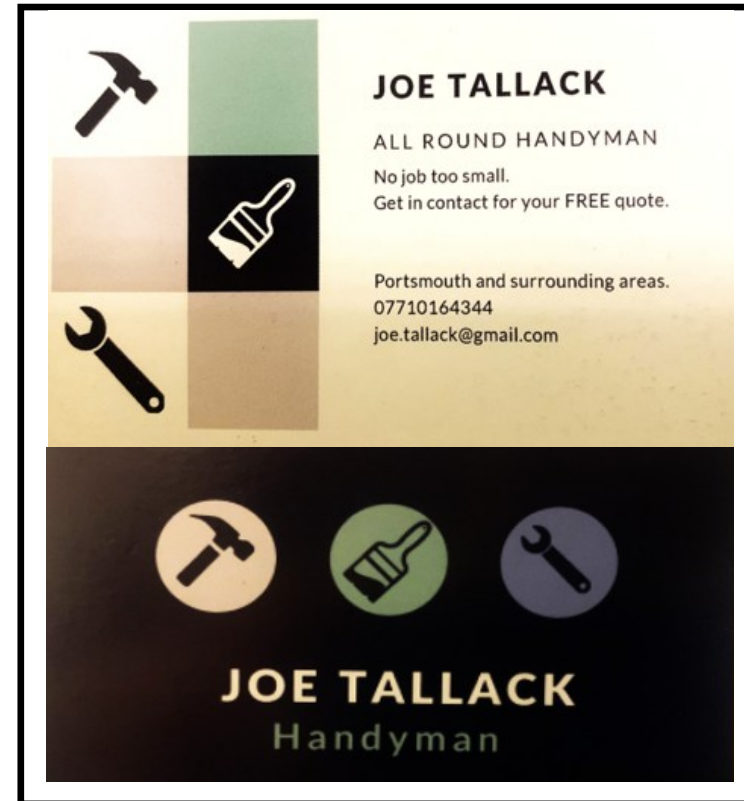

Let's Bring the Sky Back to Life

Imagine more swifts circling above our parish each summer—because of small, hopeful actions taken by neighbours like you.

If you'd like to take part or find out more, visit the Milton Forum website (miltonforum.org.uk), a box can be supplied and installed for just £50. It only takes a moment, but it could help secure the future of one of our most extraordinary birds.

Let's make our rooftops part of the solution – it is not just the church that needs a new roof!

Afternoon tea, anyone?

Do you take afternoon tea? Ever wondered where it started? The custom seems to date back to the mid-19th century, and the seventh Duchess of Bedford, Anna Russell. The Duchess got hungry at about 4pm each day, calling it “that sinking feeling”. As it was still four hours until dinner (at 8pm), she began to have sandwiches or a small cake with some tea. Her friends thought this was marvellous, and the idea spread quickly through (hungry) upper class circles.

Soon, it seems, everyone in England was looking forward to Afternoon Tea, and a great British tradition was born. Though, during the last century, the sandwiches and cake gave way to biscuits, still we reached for the teapot each afternoon. Not so much anymore, it seems. In the last five years, sales of tea and biscuits have dropped. Perhaps we are drinking coffee? The research was done by retail analysts Mintel.

The Bible has many stories of mothers who had great faith in God. With their love, care, encouragement and prayers their children grew up to be great people of God.

Sermon slot on Safeguarding. November 16th 2025 by Allison Threlkeld

Hello everyone; I feel very privileged to be standing here and a bit nervous too! For those of you who do not know me, my name is Alison Threlkeld. I have been your Parish Safeguarding Officer for about a year now. Why me?? Well Father Darren approached me at coffee and asked and I said yes without thinking to much about the workload. However my background, as a qualified Social Worker, my career, supporting homeless families in the city, have both involved promoting the health and welfare of others and the prevention of abuse and neglect.

I have been asked to talk about the need for safeguarding in our church. This is not an easy, lighthearted topic to talk about, it's not really possible to weave in amusing moments but the aim is to keep everyone including me and you and those you care about safe. Safeguarding sounds like a sort of modern, recent idea. We read about it in the newspapers; we hear and see stories relating to it on the television.

Sadly, what makes the news is when safeguarding fails in an institution, a hospital, a school or sadly a church. This is a pity as there are far more examples of good, caring safeguarding that we never hear about and yet it is in these safe places that everyone knows that they belong, are cared about and have someone to talk to if they are worried or concerned. That is what we want to achieve here both for those who commit their time and energy to helping others and for those who benefit.

Safeguarding or safe keeping is, in fact an ancient idea and certainly one rooted in both the Old and New Testaments. This week the World has been using the term safeguarding in relation to our beautiful planet Earth – Today, here, I want to focus on what we can do to protect vulnerable people. We know that Jesus cares for all, particularly those in society who are seen as the least, the last or the lost. We see him working throughout his ministry to help those who are vulnerable. So safeguarding is not a modern, tick box rather irritating notion, but a necessity; ...particularly so within a church community. A community driven by love; love for God, for our saviour Jesus Christ and for our neighbours. A community which by its very nature welcomes all.

It is this fact, that our doors are open to all that makes it even more necessary to keep safeguarding uppermost in our parish ministry and worship. It may not be mentioned by name in the gospels, but Jesus shows us many examples of noticing and responding to those who need our help and care. Our safeguarding policy is that approved by the Church of England House of Bishops, called "Promoting a Safer Church"; we are required to follow it.... That's why we have a Safeguarding Officer!!

So, how can we promote safeguarding here? We make it clear to everyone who comes into our churches or who engages with our online presence that we follow the policy. We have posters in every church with contact details of people who can help. We require training for all who are in any sort of leadership position in our church...Clergy, those on the PCC, those who interact with children in play groups, those involved with Shell Club, Little Shells, with choir, with serving. These are privileged positions and so the volunteers are all offered training and some must complete it in order to undertake the role. This training helps us to understand what can go wrong, what types of abuse or neglect can occur, how to help those who have suffered and what to do if you are concerned that abuse or neglect may be occurring. – The type of problem one may encounter has changed over the years and that is why, even if you have been a regular church attender or helper for years, it helps to do the training. For example: online interactions of several types have grown enabling abuse to occur where it could not before.

We have all read about elderly people being caught up in financial scams by unscrupulous people. There have even been cases in our wider Church world where church leaders have not kept their church members safe (quite the reverse) and have committed serious crimes against them. So, we need to recognise when things don't look or sound quite right. If this had happened in these parishes maybe the outcomes would have been different. So the idea that things can go so wrong sounds incredible, impossible perhaps, and absolutely impossible that it could happen here; but we shouldn't be over confident in ourselves.

Psalm 62, cautions against putting all our trust in solely in people, whoever they may be, because as the psalmist says, you're putting your hope in the equivalent of thin air! But it is also a Psalm expressing the utmost confidence in God...we need to trust Him and see Him as our Rock and our salvation. It is this trust that Jesus embodies as he spreads the good news of the coming Kingdom of God; it is his divine presence that leads the disciples to abandon their jobs and devote themselves to following Him and helping to bring that Kingdom about. He will teach them as they travel together about protecting the vulnerable and little children and in Matthew Chapter 18, he will caution them in no uncertain terms against causing them any harm.

It is working towards this Kingdom – Jesus Centred, Kingdom Seeking that we are about here in St James and the Portsmouth Diocese. We want to make the path as smooth as possible so that everyone knows what to look out for when things do go wrong and, if seen or suspected to have a path to follow and to have someone to ask for advice or help. This, of course includes those who think they need help, guidance or rehabilitation. We can only try to do our best and as imperfect human beings; it helps both to pray and to have a set of clear signposts to follow. Having a greater understanding also keeps us safe. We learn not to do things that could be misinterpreted.

We encourage anyone who thinks they would benefit to undertake the basic and foundation safeguarding training. You do not need to see yourself as a leader to do the courses. Any member of the congregation may sign up. They are now done online through the Church of England website and are free but if anyone would find working online a problem, I am happy to help people or support attending the training in person. I will be around after the service to answer any questions you may have or indeed to listen if you have found what I have been talking about upsetting or difficult or would like to know more. However I hope you have found this introduction to safe guarding here at St James reassuring – that is certainly what is intended. Thank you for listening.

25th March: Lady Day or The Annunciation

This beautiful event (Luke 1:26-38) took place in Nazareth, when Mary is already betrothed to Joseph. The Archangel Gabriel comes to Mary, greets her as highly favoured, tells her not to be afraid, that she will bear a son Jesus, and that her elderly cousin Elizabeth is already pregnant (with John the Baptist).

The church calendar is never quite as neat as some would like it. To celebrate the Annunciation on 25th March does indeed place the conception of Jesus exactly nine months from His birth on 25th December, but the latter part of March almost inevitably falls during Lent. But the birth and death of Jesus are intrinsically linked – He was born to die, and thus fulfil God's purposes.

The Annunciation is a significant date in the Christian calendar – it is one of the most frequent depicted in Christian art. Gabriel's gracious strength and Mary's humble dignity have inspired many artists. Certainly, Mary's response to the angel has for centuries been an example of good faith in practice – humility, enquiry of God, and trusting acceptance in His will for her life.

29th March – Palm Sunday, Jesus at the gates of Jerusalem

Holy Week begins with Palm Sunday, when the Church remembers how Jesus arrived at the gates of Jerusalem just a few days before the Passover was due to be held. He was the Messiah come to His own people in their capital city, and yet He came in humility, riding on a young donkey, not in triumph, riding on a war-horse.

As Jesus entered the city, the crowds gave Him a rapturous welcome, throwing palm fronds into His path. They knew His reputation as a healer, and welcomed Him. But sadly, the welcome was short-lived and shallow, for Jerusalem would soon reject her Messiah, and put Him to death. On this day churches worldwide will distribute little crosses made from palm fronds in memory of Jesus' arrival in Jerusalem.

IS EVERYBODY LISTENING

With such an interesting situation what would happen next, would the intercessor continue with the prayers or would something else take place. By now the Bishop was no longer kneeling but was standing at the front of the church looking out at the congregation waiting for the next unusual action in the service. This soon took place when a loud voice was heard "I am on speaker can you hear me?...no reply. How are you? Again no reply." Who was calling? If they couldn't hear certainly the whole of the congregation could, as their ears pricked up to hear what would be said next. The voice continued? "I am in church at the moment and we are having a special service, the Bishop is here and has just preached a sermon which was very interesting on The Trinity. I don't think anyone in the congregation understood it, but I am sure you would have found it make sense and logical even if the Bishop didn't know what he was talking about. I had better stop talking as the service has taken a new dimension and we need to resume it"

LADIES GUILD

Ladies Guild on Tuesday 3rd March will be a cup of something, cake and a natter.

Mothering Sunday

Mothering Sunday – the fourth Sunday of Lent- offers families an opportunity to honour the women who have nurtured them. Lots of different streams and traditions have come together to make today's Mothering Sunday the special day that it is.

In the Middle Ages it was an occasion for everyone to visit their 'mother' church – the place where they had been baptised. Later, an opportunity for those who worked away from home to visit their mothers became added to the mix of reasons to make it a special day.

Today we honour all women who have in one way or another been special to us, and in church this is usually signalled by small bunches of flowers for every woman present.

Treating mums and grans to Sunday lunch, chocolates and flowers is also part of the present mix. And will there be a simnel cake to be seen – a tradition from ages past – with its rich layers of marzipan, and eleven balls of marzipan on top, reminders of the 11 disciples who remained faithful to Jesus?

Not everyone has enjoyed a wonderful or enduring relationship with their mum, so lest we get carried away on a wave of love and sentimentality, there is usually space in the Mothering Sunday church service to reflect on and pray for those whose relationships with their mother were not all they might have been.

Also, there are the families blighted by the lack of, or death of a child; families remembering a mum who died tragically young; women who never had a child but would have dearly loved the opportunity; all these and more are a recognition of the imperfections of human love, human life.

These imperfections can be brought in prayer to the God who mothers us. In the Old Testament, Isaiah speaks of God comforting His people like a mother hen. In the New Testament, both Matthew and Luke bear witness to Jesus expressing His desire to gather His people as a mother hen gathers her chicks under her wings. Yes, God has strong maternal qualities which He invites us to discover and enjoy!

Have you discovered the mothering, nurturing, maternal qualities which God offers to all people? It's lovelier than flowers, more long-lasting than simnel cake, better than a visit from family, and it's free to everyone who wants it – it could be yours!

By the Revd Roy Shaw, a retired but active priest in the diocese of York

How God works

A grandmother was taking her young grandson for a walk in the park. The daffodils were in bloom, and it was a beautiful Spring day. Wanting to encourage her grandson's spiritual understanding of the world, she said: "Doesn't it look like an artist painted this scenery? Did you know God did all this?"

Her grandson replied: "Oh yes, and God did it left-handed, too." In astonishment, the grandmother asked what he meant. "Well, He must have done," said her grandson, "because we learned at church last week that Jesus sits on God's right hand."

One of my churchwardens is a stickler for 'Health and Safety'...

My sermon today comes from Apps Chapter 1 beginning at verse 2...

From The Rectory
St James the Least

My dear Nephew Darren

Clearly, the sight of your vicar running out of the room halfway through your last church council meeting, saying he should have stayed as a traffic warden, where he was universally liked, has unnerved you. It would have unnerved me too, since a universally popular traffic warden is an exceptional creature.

But perhaps it is necessary to give you some advice for the day when you do have to chair your first church council meeting.

1. Consider every agenda issue carefully beforehand and decide what you would like to do. Then, at the meeting, consult widely, listen to every opinion, weigh all the arguments, and then do precisely what you had decided before the meeting ever took place.
2. Never, ever, let council members discuss hymns, which avoids getting blood on the carpets.
3. Arrange the seating in rows, all facing the front, so that everyone must respond directly to you. The last thing you want is for council members to be able to discuss matters freely with one another.
4. Start smoking a pipe. At those times when you are faced with an issue when you really are unsure of how to respond, taking out your pipe, dismantling it, searching for a pipe cleaner, squinting down the stem to see if it is clean, mopping out the goo in the bowl, searching for your tobacco pouch, filling the pipe, tamping it down, asking if you can borrow matches and attempting to light it several times over, will give you more than sufficient time to formulate a reply. Once you have perfected the routine, the silence will have been so protracted, that most of the committee will have long forgotten what the question was anyway.
5. If someone is talking too long, consult your diary, noisily and obsessively, about next month's appointments, or write a note to a committee member who is at the back of the room and get it passed to him. The speaker should soon get the message.

These are the simpler techniques of committee management. The advanced procedures must wait until you are strong enough to bear them.

Your loving uncle, Eustace
